EDUCATION IN THE BUILDING INDUSTRY

WHY WE KEEP GETTING IT WRONG AND HOW TO FIX IT

STEVEN PELUSO

Steve Peluso is the new president of Master Builders Victoria (MBV). With more than 30 years of experience, Steve has identified, assessed, and rectified more than $200 million in building failures across residential and commercial projects.

This session calls out the real issues:

- Why compliant does not mean built properly
- Where builders and consultants are failing each other
- How poor coordination is costing time, money, and reputation
- What must change if we want to lift standards across the industry

No spin. No theory. Just what is actually happening on site.
